The Standing Committee on Home Missions made its report, which was amended and adopted as follows:

The following matters have been referred to your Committee:

1. The address of Rev. Dr. S. L. Morris, the Assembly's Secretary of Home Missions.

2. The report of the Executive Committee of Home Missions of the Synod.

In answer to the address of Dr. Morris, we would say that the Synod has heard with much pleasure of the great work that is being done by the Assembly's Committee. We assure Dr. Morris of our deep and abiding interest in his work and we earnestly pray that God's richest blessings may rest upon him in his person and in his labors.

We rejoice in the fact that the Committee proposes to enlarge the work, and in view of this fact, we urge our people to fall into line with this aggressive movement and to do all they can to make it a success. We urge our Presbyteries to make a faithful effort to raise their proportionate part of the amount proposed to be raised by the General Assembly with which to carry on this work.

We rejoice in the work done by the Synod's Executive Committee of Home Missions.

We would recommend:

1. That the recommendations of the Executive Committee be adopted.

2. That the following Committee be elected for the next year: Alexander Sprunt, Chairman, J. K. Hall, A. H. White, F. D. Jones, W. A. Clark, N. W. Edmunds, W. J. McKay, B. P. Reid, C. E. Graham, D. M. Fulton, John McSween, J. C. Shive, and W. E. Pelham.

3. That $200 be appropriated for clerical and other help for the chairman.

4. As last year was such a trying year with our people from a financial point of view, we think the Committee acted wisely in not trying to raise the full amount suggested by the last Synod with which to carry on this work.

5. In view of the large cotton mill population within our bounds and of their spiritual condition, we urge the committee to carefully consider the needs of this special field and wherever it is practicable to push the work among these people.

6. We urge the committee, as far as conditions will allow, to enlarge the work along purely evangelistic lines.

7. We further urge the committee to encourage the sustentation fields to self support as far as possible.

8. We recommend that the month of February be designated as the time in which to take up collections in our churches for this cause.

9. That the Executive Committee be authorized to employ a Superintendent of Synodical Home Missions, whose duty it shall be to take general supervision of the work under the direction of the committee; to visit the mission fields within our bounds for the purpose of gathering information, and of advising and assisting the committee in the prosecution of the work in those fields; and of visiting the churches, whenever invited to do so by their pastors or Sessions, to present this cause for the purpose of raising funds for its prosecution: Provided, that the committee, after careful consideration, shall decide that the employment of such a superintendent would be of sufficient assistance in the work to warrant the appropriation of funds for the payment of his salary.

The Committee on Bills and Overtures presented a report, which was, on a motion to adopt, discussed until the hour for recess, when Synod receded from business until 3:30 p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Rev. J. L. Williamson, Chairman, presented the report of the committee on the Theological Seminary, which was adopted.

The Standing Committee to which was referred the annual report and records of the Board of Directors of the Columbia Theological Seminary respectfully submits the following report:

An examination of the annual report of the Board and its proceedings as more fully detailed in its records, has impressed upon your committee the fact that the work of the institution has been faithfully and successfully performed. There has been a slight increase in the number of students enrolled during the past year; and the financial condition of the Seminary is very encouraging: so that your committee is fully persuaded that a brighter day has already dawned upon our beloved Seminary.

We recommend for your adoption the following resolutions:

1. That the records of the Board be approved as manifesting a satisfactory discharge of duty.

2. That the Synod express its gratification at having Rev. H. A. White, D. D., Professor of New Testament Literature and Exegesis, and does hereby most heartily approve of his election to said chair.

3. That the Synod commends the prudent management which has succeeded in keeping the expenses of the institution within its income, and at the same time doing so much to promote the comfort of our students.

4. That this Synod does now invoke for this institution the cordial sympathy and undivided support of its entire constituency.

5. That the Synod re-appoint Mr. C. E. Graham and Rev. B. P. Reid as Directors of the Seminary for a term of three years.

J. L. WILLIAMSON,
Chairman.

The Rev. W. B. Arrowood, for the committee, presented and Synod adopted the following Narrative:

Your committee on Narrative would report that they have received reports from all our Presbyteries. From these we gather the following facts:

Attendance upon divine worship is generally well observed.

Family worship and religious training in the home seem to be generally neglected. Only a very few are faithful in the discharge of this important duty.

In strange contrast to family religion, the Sabbath is reported as generally well observed, with evident tendencies however to laxity in some quarters.

Sabbath schools are maintained in our churches with rare exceptions, in which instruction is given in the Scriptures and catechisms with commendable fidelity.

A large majority of our churches have met their financial obligations to their pastors: and are liberal in their support of the various causes of the church. The spirit of liberality is evidently on the increase, while it is recognized that few give of their substance as they are prospered.

There is a healthy spiritual life in the churches generally throughout our Synod, and in a few of our churches special outpouring of the Spirit is reported.

Worldly conformity does not seem to prevail to any great extent.

A very few of our churches are doing some evangelistic work outside of their bounds, but the great majority report nothing done.

As we review the whole field we have reason to thank God for grace bestowed; but also to humble ourselves before Him in confession of our sin for work undone, and to implore the gracious outpouring of His Spirit to quicken, strengthen and guide in the year to come.

Respectfully submitted,
W. B. Arrowood, } Committee.
G. G. Mayes, }

The Rev. W. L. Lingle, Chairman, presented the report of the Committee on Church and Christian Education, which was adopted as follows:

The Synod has heard with pleasure the report of the Board of Visitors of Thornwell Orphanage.

It is gratifying to know that our Orphanage continues to prosper and that improvements are being constantly made.

We make the following recommendations and suggestions:

1. That the Synod return its hearty thanks to the superintendent and entire management for the efficient manner in which they have conducted the affairs of the Orphanage.

2. That this institution be again commended to all churches and Sabbath schools, and that they be urged to continue their hearty support of the Orphanage. We suggest that where it is practicable that collections and other offerings be taken for this cause on Thanksgiving day.

3. That Mr. R. M. Cooper, of Harmony Presbytery, be appointed a member of the Board of Visitors to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Anthony White.

4. That we advise the Board of Visitors to discontinue the giving of literary degrees.

The Synod has also heard with pleasure the report of the Board of Trustees of the Presbyterian College of South Carolina. We are pleased to hear of the increased attendance at this institution and that steady progress is being made in its development in many ways. We again commend it to the liberality and support of our people.

W. L. Lingle, Chairman.

Rev. Dr. Thornwell addressed Synod concerning the Presbyterian College at Clinton.

On motion the first order of the day was suspended to hear at this hour the Rev. Dr. I. S. McElroy, Assembly's Secretary of Ministerial Relief, who addressed Synod concerning this cause. Rev. Dr. Sprunt offered the following, which was adopted:

Synod welcomes with pleasure the Rev. I. S. McElroy, D. D., the General Assembly's Secretary of Ministerial Relief, on the occasion of this his first visit to this Synod, and expresses its deep interest in his address.

We note with devout thankfulness the interest manifested throughout our Assembly in this noble cause of sympathy and relief in the support of some of God's most honored servants; and we earnestly trust that this interest will extend to every congregation throughout the bounds of the Assembly.

Resolved: 1. That we express our hearty interest in and our warmest endorsement of the cause of Ministerial Relief and the plan inaugurated by our Assembly for the prosecution of this work.

2. That the Synod approves of, and commends to our Presbyteries and church Sessions, the recommendations of the Assembly asking that permanent committees be appointed in the interests of Ministerial Relief in every Presbytery and congregation.

3. That Synod urges each congregation that has not contributed to this cause during the present ecclesiastical year, to send a contribution to the Assembly's Treasurer before the expiration of the present year.

4. That Synod appoint the following Permanent Committee on this cause: Rev. Melton Clark, Rev. W. G. Neville, John McSween and Geo. W. Taylor.

The first order of the day was taken up and the report of the Permanent Committee on Colored Evangelization was amended and adopted. (See Appendix.)

Rev. Dr. Hall, for the Committe on the Minutes of the Assembly, made a report which was as follows:

Your committee beg leave to report that they find several items in the Minutes of the Assembly to which they desire to call the attention of the Synod (pages 267; 271; 275; 283; 284; 287; 290; 292) but the only recommendation calling for action by the Synod, is the one on page 278 in regard to young people's conventions.

Your committee would suggest that the attention of the Presbyteries be called to this recommendation, and that it be left to them to carry out the wishes of the Assembly in whatever way may seem to them best.

The report of the committee on the Twentieth Century Fund was taken from the docket, discussed; and the recommendations were adopted and the report approved. (Appendix).

On motion, the same committee was continued for another year.

REPORT OF PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON FOREIGN MISSIONS.

A partial survey of the fields in which our church is working, is thus given in the last report of the General Assembly's Executive Committee:

"In Africa, although our force of workers there is smaller than for several years past, the number of professed conversions has been greater than in any previous year. Both at Luebo and Ibanj, there has been an almost continuous state of revival in the work throughout the year. In China, at all the stations, our returning missionaries received a warm welcome from the people, and they have found more readiness to hear the gospel than ever before. The favorable change in the attitude of the upper classes is very marked.

"The Korean Mission has been greatly weakened by the necessary home-coming of several of its members; but those who remained, found everywhere an open door, and the native Christians are showing the same spirit of self-help that has characterized them from the beginning.

"In Japan, the spirit of revival has prevailed in all of the churches, and a wide spread interest in the gospel has, in many places, been shown among the people. The best result of this movement is said to be, not the large ingathering of new members, but the communication of a new spirit of activity to the whole Japanese church, and the elevation of its spiritual tone."

Though these words were written nearly six months ago, they sufficiently indicate the condition of the work today in the lands referred to. In the three Roman Catholic fields, in which we have missions—Brazil, Mexico and Cuba—steady progress is being made, though the opposition of the Romish priests is in some places, reported to be more intense than formerly.

The receipts, from all sources, were reported to the Assembly as $164,883.00, and again the year was closed without debt.

While this latter statement sounds well, and may be a source of comfort to us, it is well for us to understand just what it means. The truth is set fourth in the following extract from an editorial in the September "Missionary:"

"In 1893, we had on our roll 106 missionaries, and our income was $133,900. This allowed something over $1,300 for each missionary, to cover his personal support, the cost of his work in the field, and all that had to be done for him at home. This is not far from what is now being expended by most of the larger denominational boards and societies for each of their missionaries and it is not more than necessary in the way of support and equipment, to make the work most effective.

"Since 1893, our missionary roll has received a net increase of 60. The corresponding increase of income should have been $78,000, and our annual income now, for the proper equipment and support of our missionaries, should be about $210,000. But instead of $78,000, our increase of income in the ten years has been only about $31,000. And instead of having $1,300, to expend in the support of each missionary and his work, we have for several years past, had less than $1,000. The result is, that the tasks that many of them are trying to perform, are like making bricks without straw. Our medical men are without hospital facilities. Training schools for native workers are not organized where they are needed, because there is no money to spend on buildings and equipments. In some fields, the native helpers that could be properly and profitably employed, are not being used because there are no funds available for that purpose."

All this is worth considering in the midst of our rejoicing that we are incurring no debts.

These facts also explain the reason why larger reinforcements have not been sent to the front for the past two or three years. But there is true cause for rejoicing that the Assembly's committee has recently seen its way clear to send out nine new laborers; two to Africa, two to Cuba, one to Mexico, two to Japan and two to Korea. Of these, one is going from our Synod, Rev.L. O. McCutchen, of Bethel Presbytery. Besides these, Miss Emelyn Craig, from a church in Bethel Presbytery, has gone to Cuba to take charge of the Mission School. One year ago, there were 167 missionaries on the roll; now, there are 177, an increase of ten, including those recently gone or now going out. Of these, about thirty are away from their fields on furlough.

Our Synod is represented by ten ministers, distributed as follows: From Bethel Presbytery, 3; Charleston, 1; Enoree, 4; Pee Dee, 1; and South Carolina, 1. Besides these, there are ten ladies and two medical missionaries from this State.

The contributions from this Synod, for the year ending April 1, 1902 were $12,237.00. But the churches reported to the Presbyteries only $11,183.

It is unfortunate that the reports from churches are not more carefully and accurately made. There was an actual increase of $192,00 over the contributions of the preceding year, but the minutes of the Assembly show an apparent decrease of $862.00.

Your committee desires to call your attention, in a very special manner, to what is known as the "Forward Movement" in our church. It was inaugurated by the last General Assembly; and it means the support of particular missionaries by individual churches or persons. The Assembly expressed its belief, "that this plan, properly managed, will result in largely increased contributions, and in greater practical interest in the great cause."

Three young men, who expect to go to the foreign field, have been engaged, since last June, in presenting this matter to the churches, and with gratifying success. They work under the direction of the Assembly's Committee, but without cost to it, their expenses being paid by certain individuals. One of them, Mr. J. Fairman Preston, a licentiate of Enoree Presbytery, has visited nine churches of this Synod, and each one, without a single exception, has pledged itself to support a missionary. The aggregate sum promised from these nine churches is fully $3,500 in excess of their contributions last year. A like increase throughout the Synod would give a total of $35,000 for the cause this year.

The plan adopted is to ask for pledges to contribute so per week during the year; which is believed to be the best plan for securing the largest contributions from the largest number of contributors.

Your committee would recommend, that our ministers and Sessions be urged to give special attention to this matter; to invite Mr. Preston to visit their fields; and that where his services cannot be secured, they themselves endeavor to enlist their churches in the movement. A group of churches in one pastorate may agree to support a missionary, so may two neighboring pastorates, in cases when one is not strong enough to do it.

Last year there were only four churches and individuals, so far as we know, in the Synod supporting each a missionary; now, there are thirteen (13) pledged to do so.

It is further recommended, that diligent and persistent effort be made to supply our people with missionary literature. The circulation of our periodicals should be largely increased, and missionary libraries purchased by individuals or churches, and placed within reach of the people, for the purpose of developing and maintaining an intelligent interest in the work. Selected libraries may be obtained, at small cost, through Mr. C. A. Rowland, Jr., of Athens, Ga., who is the business manager of the Forward Movement campaign now being conducted.

Respectfully submitted,
ROBERT ADAMS, Chairman.

SIXTH ANNUAL REPORT OF SYNOD'S EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE ON HOME MISSIONS.

By a standing rule of Synod it is expected of the Executive Committee on Home Missions, to report upon the general subject of Home Missions throughout the bounds of Synod, both Presbyterial and Synodical. We therefore herewith present the reports of the chairman of the various Presbyterial Committees, and these will present the work as conducted by these committees and their own Presbyteries.

1. Reports of Presbyterial Committees:

Bethel Presbytery—During the past year fifteen churches have been aided in securing the preached word, and thirteen mission points have been worked by home missionaries and by pastors; a handsome chapel has been built in Chester, by Purity church, at a cost of more than $1,400; the chapel at Smith's has been furnished with pews and pulpit set; a commission has been appointed to organize a church at Ruby—the result of home mission effort; an evangelist supported by Purity church and Presbytery has been maintained to work among the mill people of Chester, and Monetta Mills; a lady missionary, who does general mission and educational work, has been maintained among the Catawba Indians, supported in part by Presbytery. Presbytery has expended directly upon its own work $799.65.

(Signed) J. K. HALL, Chairman.

Charleston Presbytery—Two church buildings have been erected and paid for. Several churches have been aided in keeping pastors by Presbytery's Committee. Seven mission points have been cultivated by those employed by Presbytery's Committee or by other pastor's connection with their regular work. Ten churches and one mission point have been supplied regularly by those laboring under the direction of Synod's Committee. All churches under the direction of Presbytery's Committee have been kept open except two, and these have been without a pastor for only a short time. Charleston Presbytery offers unusual opportunities and openings for home mission work, especially among the factory people of Aiken county and Columbia. The former have been practically neglected by our church, while the work among the latter has not been encouraged. The need is very great and the work deserves more substantial encouragement. The increase in the number of accessions to church membership and growth generally in other fields beside these offer decided reasons for encouragements in comparison with the condition as reported to the last meeting of Synod. Charleston Presbytery expended within its own bounds during the year $896.31.

FRANK DUDLEY JONES, Chairman.

Enoree Presbytery—The last two collections for local Home Missions amounted to $240. Of this we gave $60 to Synod's Committee and paid a debt of $112.50 to the last evangelist, and have a small balance left. Some collections in addition to above were sent to Synod's Committee.

The First churches of Spartanburg, Greenville, Union and Clinton are at work at the cotton mills near by. Some have built houses of worship and all are contributing to support preaching at mills near by. The Third church Greenville has two mission Sabbath schools at the mills.

A promising church, the Todd Memorial, has been organized at Laurens cotton mill. Some four or more of our pastors are cultivating promising mission points near their fields. We propose

First. To try to get all our church to adopt monthly or quarterly payments and use envelopes for collections.

Secondly. To supply our vacant churches by Presbyterial appointment until they can be regularly supplied.

Thirdly. To raise if possible at least $1,000 to support one or more Home Missionaries.

B. P. REID, Chairman.

Harmony Presbytery—There is nothing special to report in our local Home Mission work for the past Synodical year. All of our churches have been supplied with preaching, either for the full or for part of their time through regular pastoral work; so that there has been no occasion for mission work, technically so called.

The work in Georgetown, Rev. J. E. Dunlop, pastor, is still sustained, in part, by the Synod's Home Mission scheme. Otherwise our Local Home Mission contributions have been sufficient to enable us to help such of our groupings as needed the same.

There seems to be some confusion with the various treasurers in remitting the funds collected for these two mission schemes. The contributions for the Local Home Mission work for the past Synodical year amount to $286.

(Signed) N. W. Edmunds, Chairman.

Pee Dee Presbytery—The work in our Presbytery has made some progress since the last meeting of Synod. One new church has been organized at Bayboro in Horry county, and several mission stations have been maintained in different parts of the Presbytery. All of our churches have had regular services, either by pastors or supplies, until the Church of Bennettsville and the group consisting of Carolina, Clio and McColl were made vacant by the removal of two of our ministers. We hope, however, to have both of these pastorates filled again in the near future. We have assisted only one church to secure a supply. Our churches have contributed $280.02 for this work. Our Presbytery is quite weak; but we are endeavoring to all we can to plant the seed of Gospel truth in the destitute places within our bounds.

(Signed) D. M. Fulton, Chairman.

South Carolina Presbytery—The Home Mission work in our Presbytery is in a hopeful condition. Our opportunities are increasing, especially in the upper half of the Presbytery; the demands are greater; our people are interested; and we are glad to report that the work is being enlarged. Presbytery has made larger appropriations for the incoming year than ever before. Two strong groups have recently been formed, with Westminster and Liberty as central points, Westminster having a good manse, and arrangements are being made soon to have a new manse at Liberty. Abundant opportunities are all around both of these growing towns for mission work.

The Committee expended for the work in our bounds since the last meeting of Synod $504.62; and we have on hand now about $650.

The Presbytery has authorized the Committee to pay out in actual salaries the incoming year, $775 to assist eight fields and to secure pastors.

We have but one difficult and serious problem, and that is how to get the Edgefield group to call a pastor who will go.

We have two other vacant fields which we hope will soon have pastors.

(Signed) J. C. Shive, Chairman.

2. Report of Synod's Executive Committee of Home Missions as conducted by this Committee, for the year ending October 31st, 1902:

The past year has been extraordinary in some respects. Throughout a large portion of our Synod during the year closing, the crops were failures, and our people have been seriously embarrassed, financially, because of this.

The committee was authorized by Synod last year to endeavor to secure the sum of $6,000 for this work during the year now closing. The committee could have used this amount of money to good advantage, and we are satisfied that if this sum had been raised and expended we would have had special and lasting joy in offering this report, for we are not without gratifying results with and expenditure of half the sum authorized.

On the 17th December, 1901, the committee met in Charleston, S. C., to consider the interests of the work entrusted to us. It was a regret to the committee that neither of our efficient members from Pee Dee Presbytery could be present. The other Presbyteries were represented; the Presbytery of South Carolina, however, being the only one represented in full. After discussing the work in all its bearings, it was unanimously resolved not to attempt any aggressive work during the present Synodical year, but to support the work already undertaken and pay off the indebtedness of last year. It was deeply regretted by the committee that they were forced to adopt this action. It was taken in view of the wide spread failure of the crops, the knowledge of the fact that special efforts would be made to secure funds for the Twentieth Century Movement and for the cause of Foreign Missions. The committee therefore decided to call upon our churches, through the Presbyterial Committees to contribute only the amount necessary to keep our present force of evangelists at work, and to pay the $400 deficit of last year. The general sum called for was then $3,600, instead of $6,000 authorized by the Synod. Whether the action of the committee was wise or unwise they acted for the best interests of the church in the days to come, as the facts appeared to them at the time.

The committee further decided to apportion this sum of $3,600 amongst the Presbyteries according to membership, and the Presbyterial chairmen were instructed to apportion their quota amongst the churches on the same basis: which was at the rate of 18 cents per member. How much of this has been received will be found elsewhere in this report.

Considering the resources at our command we believe the results during the past year are very incouraging. What of interest may have been communicated to the work by the novelty of our scheme has now taken on an air of permancy. In the four fields occupied by our evangelists this condition prevails.

Georgetown is one of the most rapidly growing towns in our state, and we need a man there for all his time. Rev. B. P. Reid, lately our general evangelist, after visiting this field, expressed the judgement that it was probably the most promising field in our Synod.

The prospects of our church in Hampton county, specially in the neighborhood of Crocketville were never brighter. The new and promising town of Denmark, a railroad centre, is bright with promise for our church, and the county of Horry is justifying the judgement of those long familiar with the prospects for our church in that section. The report of our Evangelist, Rev. C. E. Robertson in Horry County is decidedly encouraging.

There are sections of the State where we could doubtless render efficient service for the glory of the Master and the extension of our church, if we were encouraged by the interest and zeal of our people to attempt it. We need the assurance of our Presbyteries and our churches to enable us to do this. The question is, shall we get it? In some quarters an earnest and commendable effort is being put forth, but there is room for improvement in aggressive efforts in other places.

The church at Barnwell has been visited by the professors in Columbia Seminary and Brother Pell, one each month, thereby enabling the Evangelist Rev. R. P. Walker to give more attention to other points in his wide field. The thanks of the Committee of Synod are due and no doubt will be given to these brethren for their kind services.

The Chairman of the Committee visited the churches of Rev. Kenneth McCaskill in September and gathered what information he could from the points occupied, which may be of service to the work.

We herewith submit the reports from the evangelists themselves:

From Rev. J. E. Dunlop.

1. I have preached regularly every alternate and every fifth Sabbath to the First Church in Georgetown, twice and sometimes three times each Sabbath and held two protracted meetings and have visited thirty-four families and had prayer with them. Only twelve of these families were members of our church. The others were Presbyterians who have not connected themselves with us so far, though most of them expect to do so in the near future, if they become permanent settlers here. All will come in if they find they can stay. Several of them are faithful workers already, while some are careless and need a good deal of looking after.

2. Only six have been added to the church, four on examination and two by letter. Several others have expressed a wish to become members, but are not quite ready yet.

3. Since we have been worshipping in our own church the congregations have been uniformerly good and always attentive, except during July and August, when most of our people were off on the islands or in the mountains. I was off one Sabbath myself in August, but was recalled here by trouble in one of our families, that we arranged; but I thought best not to leave again, though we had few people here. There is a fair prospect of a strong church here after a while, but there is need of outside help now and more generous help than has been extended up to this date. It has been a good deal like making brick without straw. I wish some of our good people, and we have hosts of them, could only come here and stay long enough to see what a work is needed to be done here by our church, and which can be done, and then I am sure we would have all the help we need. In the meantime we are holding our own and becoming a power for righteousness by the grace of God, though the difficulties are various and great and the battle severe. I hope you may be able to arouse our Synod so that its little coast guard may not perish.

4. We have elected, ordained and installed two deacons, young and energetic young men; and we hope for much from their earnest zeal.

5. The church building is nearly complete. It has been dedicated and is now being varnished inside and the pulpit carpeted at a cost of more than $100, which is the generous gift of Capt. R. G. Ross, the jetty contractor here, who is a member of our church in Jacksonville, Fla. If we could find some other noble Presbyterian who would paint the outside, I think we could get blinds and some other extras and the work so far would be done and our people greatly encouraged. Remember we are a little flock and that we are your own, and we are compassed about with many foes.

I have preached in the country at Harper and Rosemerry, and two other places. A church might be organized at Harper before long. These country services have all been on week days, and though generally well attended, larger numbers could be reasonably expected on the Sabbath.

From Rev. C. E. Robertson, Evangelist of Horry County in Pee Dee Presbytery.

Since my report to you in Charleston last November, I have been blessed with good health and have filled every appointment from that date to the present time. I have not held a single continued meeting this season, because I thought it best not to do so just now on account of a jealousy that has sprung up, because we have had seven prominent members of other denominations to unite with us at the different churches. This jealousy I trust will soon die out. If it does I will proceed to hold meetings as soon as I think it prudent to do so. I related these facts to Pee Dee Presbytery and my course was approved, and I trust you will see it in the same light. Though I have held no special services, we have had twenty-nine additions since my last report. I have received from this work $292.65 this year, which is something over three times the amount paid me last year at the same date. Our Sabbath schools are in good condition, and while there is much to be overcome, I feel quite sure that there is in the near future a better day for Presbyterianism in this section. I have succeeded in locating eight Presbyterian lady teachers in this county for the present school term. I shall endeavor to double this number by next year. Presbytery will meet here next spring for the second time and I trust some good may come from it to our cause. We need your prayers, and I trust that you all will make mention of us always in your appeals to our Heavenly Father.

From Rev. R. P. Walker, Evangelist in Charleston Presbytery.

1. The work. I have preached regularly once a month at Estill, Beech Island and Boiling Springs, twice a month at Harmony and Allendale, and twice during the year at Barnwell. Have held meetings at Beech Island, assisted by Rev. H. W. Burwell, of Augusta, Ga., and at Harmony, assisted by Rev. A. L. Patterson, of Walterboro. Among the people in general, at all the churches, I have visited as much as time would allow.

2. Receipts. The churches have contributed $473.15 towards their support, and in addition to this, some small amounts to other causes.

3. Growth. There have been eleven accessions, all on profession of faith in Christ, and one baptism in the past year. Our people have organized a Sabbath school at Beech Island since my last report.

4. General. We have very good congregations. The Sabbath school organized just one year ago at Harmony is doing well. Six girls from that school have recited perfectly the shorter catechism. During our meeting there last month, there were eight additions to the church, four of these were from the Sabbath school. In August I preached ten sermons for Rev. J. T. Morrison, of the Baptist church at Lawtonville. During the five days there were twenty-seven accessions to his church and one to the Presbyterian church. I think this field is getting along about as well as could be expected. There is little material except at Harmony. The hope of that community is the Presbyterian Church.

From Rev. Kenneth McCaskill, Evangelist in Charleston Presbytery.

1. Services. There are two sermons a month preached at each of the four churches in this field. At two of the churches both sermons are preached on the same Sabbath, while at the other two they come on different Sabbaths. Clearwater, a purely mission station, has one sermon in the afternoon. The attendance at all of these services is usually small. One reason for this is, that at most of these places, we nearly always conflict with services in other churches. Our congregations at Denmark have improved since we began to worship in our new building.

2. Contributions. These churches have contributed to self-support during the past year $135.03, and to other causes $41.51.

3. Growth. There have been three additions in the entire field—all by letter.

4. Progress. During the past year a lot has been purchased and a neat building erected at Denmark. This has been done at a cost of something over $400. We expect to organize a Sabbath school in the chapel next Sunday, and we will have the building dedicated as soon as arrangements can be made.

5. Outlook. The prospects in this field are brighter than they have been at any time since the present evangelist began to labor here.

6. Needs. A house of worship at Blackville, and a preacher to reside in the field and carry on the work without intermission.

Thus it will seen that the visible results of the work for the past year are one church building erected; one completed to such condition as to fit it for occupancy; one church organized; twenty-seven places supplied with the preached word, and twenty-five additions to our church.

In the past six years there have been seven churches organized; about thirty-five mission points occupied; twenty-five churches supplied with preaching of the word and twelve church buildings erected.

The following recommendations are proposed:

1. That Synod continue the work intrusted to this committee.

2. That the committee be authorized to raise at least $5,000 for the prosecution of the work for this year.

3. That Synod take some action looking toward work amongst the large and rapidly increasing cotton mill population of our State.

On the 31st October the Synod is in debt to our evangelists $308.25. So that it will appear that inasmuch as there was a deficit of $400 on November 1st, 1901, the contributions of the past year have slightly exceeded the expenses of the current year.

Recommendations:

1. That the work be continued for the incoming year.

2. That the committee be authorized to solicit at least $5,000 for the work of the next year.

3. That Synod take some action looking towards more definite effort in behalf of the large and rapidly increasing cotton mill population of our State.

Respectfully submitted,

ALEXANDER SPRUNT,
Chairman of Committee.

REPORT OF THE PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION FOR THE MINISTRY.

Last year our church had 286 candidates and 64 licentiates; this year we have 291 candidates and 62 licentiates. After a long season of decline in our members, we notice a slight increase. Our history teaches us to expect recurring seasons of decline. We believe such a season is now over and we are cheered at the sight of the increase, small as it is, and pray that it may be the earnest of better things.

In this Synod we have 26 candidates and three licentiates this year against 23 candidates and five licentiates last year. We have at least begun to increase here. Seven good men have been received by our Presbyteries since last Synod. Our candidates are distributed among our Presbyteries as follows: Bethel has eight unlicensed, Charleston has one licensed and four unlicensed, Enoree has one licensed and eight unlicensed, Harmony has two unlicensed, Pee Dee has one licensed and one unlicensed, and South Carolina has three unlicensed.

We have fourteen in Seminary against thirteen last year; eleven at Columbia, two at Princeton, one at Louisville—three in junior, four in middle and seven in senior class.

We have ten in college and university against five last year; five are at Davidson, one at Due West, three at Clinton, one at Johns Hopkins. Two are Freshmen, four are Sophomores, two are Juniors, one is Senior.

We have no candidate in preparatory school this year. We had one last year.

One this year, against two last year, has been dropped, and that was at his own request, he having decided that he was not called.

Three this year against four last year are not studying. Two in Enoree and one in South Carolina are teaching. It would be well for the Presbyteries to inquire into this.

All the Presbyteries make excellent reports as to the diligence and deportment of their candidates.

While we are thankful to see our members begin to increase we much regret to notice the serious decline in the contributions of our Presbyteries to the treasury of our Central Committee. Last year they gave $1,628 or $503 more than our candidates drew out, while this year we give the Central Committee only $967 or $52 less than we have drawn out. That is to say that our contribution is only a little over half what it was last year, and this strong Synod has asked money of others for its candidates. The decline in contributions has been serious all along this line: Bethel gave last year $422, this year $309; Charleston gave last year $307, this year $141; Enoree gave last year $261, this year $142; Harmony gave last year $202, this year $118; Pee Dee gave last year $222, this year $74; South Carolina gave last year $211, thir year $181.

We have prayed for an increase of laborers.

Is this the way to make ready for it? Will God bless us with further increase if we continue a record like this?

Your committee is not informed as to aid given outside the regular contribution and as to what our candidates have received from the student's fund at the Seminary.

We notice with satisfaction that the church has about ceased to make theories in explanation of the decline in the number of her candidates and begin to urge her people to pray for revival. If the time spent in hunting explanations had been all along spent in repenting of worldliness and praying for revival, the condition would have changed, we believe, ere this.

During the discussion many unguarded remarks have been made about a supposed "deadline" in the ministry, and these remarks have undoubtedly made thinking men halt on its threshold. Such remarks are always wrong when they leave the impression that our Redeemer or the Church, which is his body, draws a "deadline" across the paths of ministers in their strength for no other reason than that of age. The Church should take away this stone, while she calls upon her Master to enter, bringing more laborers with him. We believe in a divine call to the ministry. How then can we believe that our Redeemer and the Church, under the tuition of His providence, would call a man to a work in which he must needs be useless for the lack of providential opportunity, just when experience and attainments best fit him to be useful? There may be, there seems to be, some kind of a "deadline" in the ministry, but it must be one which man draws by oversight or neglect for himself.

There are ways in which such a line may easily be drawn. He may draw it by neglecting his own devotional life. Without incessant watchfulness on his part his familiarity with sacred things is sure to make his performance of solemn duties perfunctory. How tiresome to hear some men read the Bible and pray in the pulpit. They give not a moment to preparation for these solemn duties.

Again, a man may draw such a line by neglecting his general culture. If he interpret the fact that he is to preach only Christ and Him crucified to mean that he is to study nothing but Systematic Theology, and if he forget that the tastes of every age call for truth to be presented in a certain literary dress, then he ignores the apostolic injunction to be all things to all men, and by and by he may be—probably will be—sidetracked on the railway of life.

Again, a man may be pious, studious and energetic, and yet he may drift out of work because he fails prudently to proportion his pastoral attentions to the world around. In the midst of the great cry for pastoral work let the young not forget that a minister can sidetrack himself permanently doing pastoral work, if he go at it without thought or system. When he enters a field he is apt to think that because certain men have largest influence and give most liberally, he had better give most of his attention to them to get them to continue and further enlarge their work; but they may be rushing business men, and occupying much of their time, makes them believe that the preacher has not sense to appreciate their position and their support of him becomes a kind of condescension in their eyes. The best way to reach such men is to pass them frequently with a kindly word and go on after their children and parents for whom they work and for whom they live. The church needs a more careful training for pastoral work.

We need to study the cry for young preachers. The cry is no mere whim of ecclesiastical life. If you add the young and the children in and out of the communion together, you will find the young in nearly every congregation are in the majority, and they naturally want somebody belonging to their generation or like their generation. Now the older people live for the younger people, and in the end what the young people want prevails with them. This statement grows more true every day because this is an educational age. The growth of the sentiment for education has been wonderful recently. Educational problems and institutions are in the air. Now education has to do with the young. It is to be expected therefore that everything looking to the elevation of humanity would come to be measured by its influence on the young. The preacher may expect to come to the same test—his ability to attract and influence the young. If he fail in his preparation to open his eyes to this fact, he may expect to be sidetracked early in life. Considering the fact that the church must look to young for the body of her membership, we do not think it for the worse that it should be so.

The church needs to impress upon young men this lesson. The man who will in the fear of God direct his course according to what the facts of life are in the providence of God, and not according to what they should be in his opinion can last in the ministry today. Instance after instance of this can be found in the life of the church today.

We recommend that the Synod urge its ministers and members to pray for a baptism of the Holy Spirit. We are profoundly convinced that more laborers will come only through His reviving work.

B. P. Reid, Chairman.

REPORT OF PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON PUBLICATION.

To the Synod of South Carolina: Your Committee of Publication would respectfully report that inasmuch as the Assembly's Committee has furnished its annual report to all our ministers, it will be superfluous to do more than call attention to the essential points in that report.

First. As to the Depository or Sales Department we are gratified to learn that there has been an increase of sales by 22 per cent. over last year, and that this feature will be pushed still more vigorously in the future. Your committee would urge upon the attention of this body the immense advantage in patronizing our own publishing house, not only in supplying themselves with issues from our press but those of others. If our ministers and church members could be brought to realize this we could build a still more powerful institution or business without the loss of a cent to ourselves.

Second. As to the Publishing Department proper, during the last year several important new issues have gone forth to enrich our churches' literature, viz: "The Threefold Fellowship" and "The Threefold Assurance," by the lamented Dr. Palmer; "The New Psalms and Hymns," "Universal Salvation of Infants," according to Calvin; "Twisse and Edwards," by Dr. J. W. Stagg; "A Book of Sermons," by Dr. C. R. Vaughan, not to speak of the millions of pages of Sunday school literature.

Third. As to the Benevolent Department in which thousands of dollars worth of books, tracts and Sunday school literature is donated upon the recommendation of the several Presbyteries. This is made possible by the gifts of the churches and the profits of the Depository. This is really the most religious feature of the whole business and should claim the prayerful and practical attention of every one. This work has always been hampered from the lack of funds, and notwithstanding the repeated and urgent appeals of our lamented Secretary and the recommendations of one Assembly after another the churches have made their smallest contributions to this cause and the fewest number have contributed to it. Last year only a little over one-third of all the churches of the Assembly gave anything at all to this work. From the report of Dr. Hazen the churches in this Synod gave only $571, but from the churches' reports they gave $730, the discrepancy appearing because of the difference of the time of making the reports we judge, however, either amount is far too small for so worthy and fruitful work. We can not tell why our people have such a small idea of the work unless it is that we press other claims unduly forgeting that this, too, is a peculiar form of mission work that has been long acknowledged and tested in the Presbyterian church and deserving of our best gifts and efforts. We are glad to note that there was increase in gifts by $2,268, due largely to the gift of a sum of $1,200. The sum total of $29,065 was used in this department last year.

It may be interesting to note that 642 Bibles and 1,221 Testaments were awarded as prizes for the perfect recitation of the Shorter Catechism and the Introduction to the Shorter Catechism.

Fourth. As to the Sunday School Department. Last year has marked an epoch in this important work in the whole Church by having placed into the field a man to devote his entire time and thought to it. The untiring zeal of the General Superintendent has undoubtedly set us all to thinking how we may improve this branch of the church work. One year is too short a time to judge fully of the fruits of such a vast work, though we think enough has been done to justify this policy of the Assembly and to secure the hearty co-operation of all the ministers and Sunday school workers in furthering the wise suggestions of the one intrusted with this department. We are all aware that at present Dr. Phillips is worthily filling the double capacity of general superintendent of Sunday schools and business manager of the publishing house.

Fifth. As to the financial status. It is gratifying to state that the Treasurer's Report shows $121,412.37 of unincum-bered assets, an increase of $4,384.43 after donating over $10,000 to the benevolent department.

Such is the condition of one of the great causes of our Church. Fruitful, successful and hopeful, a living monument to our honored and lamented Secretary, Rev. Jas. K. Hazen, D. D., who passed away from earth on the 22nd day of August, A. D. 1902.

Your Committee would recommend that Synod place on record its high regard and esteem in grateful remembrance of our lamented Secretary, Rev. Jas. K. Hazen, D. D.

HUGH R. MURCHISON.

7.

REPORT OF THE PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON THE BIBLE CAUSE.

It is gratifying to note from the annual report of the American Bible Society for 1902, that the work of distributing the Scriptures as conducted by that Society for the last year shows a considerable expansion both in receipts and distribution. The receipts from legacies and the gifts of the living amounted to $225,560.60, and the distribution to 1,723,791 volumes. And of the latter, 1,037,036 volumes were distributed in foreign lands, chiefly papal and heathen, to which we send missionaries—a fact of especial interest to us.

It is pleasing, further, to observe from this report that everywhere, in Christian, papal, and heathen countries, the Bible seems to be in great demand, the people evincing eagerness to possess and read it whenever brought within reach.

In the face of these gratifying facts, which come to us from the American Bible Society, the statistical reports of our last Assembly show that that the support which our church gives this cause is very meagre and marks no advance for a number of years past, the contributions of all the churches, as reported last year, amounting to only $4,767. As to our own Synod, 95 churches report contributions to the amount of $670, a falling off, as compared with the preceding year, of 9 churches, but an increase of $22 in contributions. From these facts, it appears evident that, however ardent our pastors may be in their profession of zeal for the work, they do not adequately present it to their people for support.

The committee would therefore once more recommend that Synod urge upon all our ministers and people the consideration of the imperative obligation resting upon us to whom have been entrusted "the oracles of God", to send out the Scriptures, as containing God's light and God's truth, into all the darkened corners of the earth. The piteous plea of 1,000,000,000 of our perishing fellow men, never yet brought into touch with this volume of divine truth, comes to us with tremendous force, especially as they are now accessible to our reach with the sacred Book, and the American Bible Society, our efficient, faithful and worthy agent, stands equipped and ready to carry it in our behalf to them. Is it not high time that we should arouse from our lethargy in regard to this most important matter and seize the magnificent opportunity now set before us for bringing men to the knowledge of salvation through the inspired word?

THOS. H. LAW.
Chairman.

REPORT OF PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON COLORED EVANGELIZATION.

The Permanent Committee on Colored Evangelization would respectfully submit the following report:

The matter of greatest interest to Synod on this subject at this time is the action of the last Synod touching the purchase of the Ferguson-Williams College at Abbeville in connection with the Assembly. (Minutes of Synod, 1901, pages 44 and 45.) Of the $3,000 proposed to be paid for said property the Assembly's Committee has paid $2,000, their proportion, and Mr. Smith has delivered to it the title in the name of the Trustees of the Assembly, trusting to the Synod to pay the balance as promised.

According to the statement of Rev. S. C. Byrd only $50 of the $1,000 have been raised.

Your Committee impressed that we can not longer postpone the payment of this amount, do hereby recommend, that in order to immediately realize it, Ferguson and Williams College be placed on the list of beneficiaries of the Twentieth Century Fund, and that the Permanent Committee of Colored Evangelization be instructed to use such means as may, in its judgment be best, to provide for the speedy payment of this debt.

We also recommend that Synod approve the arrangement between the Assembly's Executive Committee and Mr. J. Allen Smith, by which the 50 foot lot just beside the Ferguson-Williams College was conveyed to the Assembly's Trustees in exchange for the lot of equal size on the other side of the block.

9.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON 20TH CENTURY FUND.

Since the last meeting of Synod your committee on the 20th Century Fund has been prosecuting the work committed to them, we trust, with a reasonable degree of success, when we consider all the obstacles which have stood in the way. Our field agent, the Rev. Wm. E. McIlwain, has been faithful and untiring in his efforts to make this enterprise a success. He was called during the summer to the superintendency of the great Home Mission work of our church in Oklahoma and the Indian Territory. Feeling it to be his duty to accept this call he resigned as our agent and his official connection with this work ceased the first of last August. Thus it will be seen from this statement and the report made last year that he labored for this cause ten months and a half. In this connection the committee desires to make record of Brother McIlwain's consecrated ability, earnestness and perseverance, of his uniform courtesy and Christian spirit, and his devotion to the cause of Christ and our beloved Church.

In conducting this work we find that there has been very little enthusiasm, if any at all, among the people in connection with the movement. While there has been apparently some interest in certain quarters, we are obliged to confess that there has been an appalling and paralyzing lukewarmness among the great majority of our people. This indifference can be explained partly on the ground that the agricultural and manufacturing interests of our State have not been so successful during the last two or three years as they were for a period of several years before that, partly because there has been a wave of worldliness and indifference sweeping over the Church for the last few years, and partly because our people have never learned to do great things for the general causes of the Church. Our pastors, as a rule, have been very kind and courteous; but, with very few exceptions, there has been no great amount of enthusiasm among them.

Still we believe that a great deal of good has been accomplished, not simply in the contributions and subscriptions that have been secured for this cause, but in the way of sowing good seed by stirring up the people along the lines of Church and Christian education and showing them the needs of our Church in connection with this work. There have been agencies and influences at work which have not been under the direct supervision of the committee that have done much good. Dr. Thornwell, of the Presbyterian College of South Carolina, Dr. Smith, of Davidson College, Dr. Preston, of Chicora College and Dr. Pell, of the Presbyterian College for Women, have all been sowing the good seeds, trying to awake the people to a realization of the condition that confronts us and urging them to support the educational interests of our beloved Zion. Other agencies have doubtless been at work; and there have been many collateral influences incident to the 20th Century Educational movement that have accomplished much good in an indirect way. Dr. R. C. Reed, of the Seminary in Columbia, has rendered the committee much valuable and willing service.

The great need that confronts us just now is a general and genuine revival on the subject of Church and Christian Education. There are many influences and agencies at work in our midst which are going to have a telling and disastrous effect on the best interests of our Church unless we bestir ourselves and improve the passing opportunities. We are living in an age of marvelous progress and it will simply be suicidal for us to sst down and fold our arms in idleness. There is a magnificent reserved force in our Church which has never been utilized. We have taken many of our talents and wrapped them up in a napkin and laid them away. It requires a proper and faithful use of all of our talents to meet the demands of this active and aggressive age.

The following moneys have been received and for the causes designated:

| For Chicora College | 32 50 |
| Total | $18,438 14 |

In addition to the above, there are some conditional subscriptions amounting to about $5,500, which bring the grand total up to about $24,000.

Other moneys have been given to Church and Christian education within the bounds of our Synod during the last year; but, as they were not secured through your committee, we do not report them.

Out of the 276 churches on our roll 50 have contributed to this fund, leaving 226 that have given nothing. Of course the great majority of these 226 churches are weak financially, but some of them have considerable strength, and all of them are able to give something.

In addition to what has already been mentioned, we have been instrumental in establishing three high schools, one at Bethel church, in York county, one at Tirzah church, in Lancaster county and one at Pendleton.

The building at Bethel church is about ready for occupancy. It is the purpose of the pastor and people of this church to establish a first-class classical high school.

The building at Tirzah is now being erected and the pastor and people of that church hope to have it ready for use in the near future. The people within the bounds of that congregation do not seem to be satisfied with one school, but are talking of establishing another within their bounds at a point where there is a promising outlook.

The work at Pendleton is in a very satisfactory condition. The people there were fortunate in securing buildings without cost. They have secured the money necessary to repair these buildings and buy the necessary furniture. The institution, which is called the Pendleton Collegiate Institute, opened on the 9th of September under the presidency of Prof. D. W. Richardson with competent help.

We have also been instrumental in doing a work at Reidville. The time honored institutions at this place which have educated one thousand boys and girls, need some repairs. There are four brick buildings there which were built in 1857. At the solicitation of Rev. B. P. Reid, who says these schools were never needed in the community more than today, Rev. W. E. McIlwain visited Reidville and together with Brother Reid, secured a subscription of several hundred dollars with which to repair the buildings.

In the midst of all the difficulties and obstacles that have confronted us, we feel encouraged in the work. For, as has already been intimated, we do not believe that all the results of this movement in the Synod can be seen. The institutions that are already in existence have a firmer hold on our people in consequence of this work. We have been instrumental in establishing several high schools. Influences are at work which may result in the establishment of others. We feel that the outlook is promising for all of our educational interests.

We would respectfully recommend

1. That this work be continued.

2. That some equitable plan of dividing the money that is subscribed for the general fund be adopted or suggested.

3. That our ministers and sessions and people be urged to lend a helping hand to this great work.

4. That high schools be established within the bounds of our congregations wherever it is practicable.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

The Board of Directors of Columbia Theological Seminary would respectfully report to the four controlling Synods:

That the exercises of the Seminary have been conducted without interruption during the year, with twenty-five students in attendance, distributed as follows: 5 in senior class, 6 in the middle, 11 in the Junior, 1 post graduate and 2 taking special course.

The financial condition of the Seminary is encouraging. The expenses have been kept within the income; and the income has been increased through more advantageous investments.

$250.00 worth of new and valuable books have been added to the library, bringing the total number of volumes up to considerably more than 22,000.

A substantial and comfortable dining hall has been completed and paid for, which adds materially to the appearance of the Seminary grounds and the comfort of the students.

Three of the students have completed their course of study and been graduated with the degree of B. D., and one with certificate.

Rev. H. A. White, D. D., of Lexington, Va., has been unanimously elected to the Professorship of New Testament Literature and Exegesis, and he has accepted.

The adjunct Professorship of English Bible has been discontinued, and the Faculty has been directed to make provision for full and thorough instruction on the English Bible.

The Board feels that a brighter day has dawned for our beloved Seminary and looks to the future with hopefulness.

W. W. Mills,
Secretary of Board.

REPORT OF THE PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE OF SOUTH CAROLINA, CLINTON, S. C.

The College began its twenty-third year of work on September 24th, with encouraging prospects. The enrollment to date is 64, as against 60 for the whole of last session, and is about 14 ahead of what it was at the meeting of Synod in 1901. Of these, 34 are old students and 30 are new; 26 are from the town, and 38 from a distance; 52 are from South Carolina, 6 from North Carolina, 3 from Georgia, 2 from Virginia, and 1 from Mississippi. Three are from the Thornwell Orphanage, and three from the Mission Training Class. Nine are the children of ministers, and 5 are students for the ministry. To orphans, students for the ministry, and children of ministers, the college is giving fully $600 in the way of free tuition this session.

Last year a course in history was introduced, and was found so beneficial that it is our intention to continue it, and eventually, in all probability, to make of it a four years' instead of a two years' course. It is placed this year in the hands of Prof. M. G. Woodworth, our new Professor of English. Mr. Woodworth is a first-honor graduate of Hampden-Sidney, and also a graduate of Union Theological Seminary. He has had several successful pastorates, and has had five years' experience in teaching. He adds strength to the corps of teachers.

Of our graduates five are this year in Columbia Seminary, two in Louisville Seminary, and one in Union. Twenty are actively engaged in ministerial work, while two others, who graduated with the ministry in view are dead. Another, who is a student for the ministry, is teaching this year, and still another, who is not yet under care of Presbytery, but who expects to study for that profession, is teaching. Of our 72 graduates, 16 have been young ladies, so that of 56 male graduates, 32 graduated with the ministry in view. This is 57 per cent., a showing of which we are justly proud.

Through the kindness of a few friends we have been able to equip and open up for active work a chemical laboratory, sufficient for the needs of our classes, so long as they are small in numbers, as our higher classes are now. This is an important step in advance, and one which makes our course much stronger. We are not ashamed to compare our requirements for entrance and for graduation with those of any Southern college. Our faculty is composed of Christian gentleman, each a specialist in his own department, thoroughly competent to teach the courses laid down in our catalogue. Each member of the faculty is making a sacrifice in order to do the work of the college. Not one of them who could not obtain a better salary elsewhere. But, we are glad to say, there is not one in the number who is not willing to do his part, and to make the sacrifice necessary in order to continue the work. By this we do not mean that we do not want more money for the work we are doing, nor that we are not worthy to receive more. We believe that the work is being done just as well as if our places were filled by well paid teachers, high priced men. It is not always the poorly paid minister in the country who does the poorest preaching, and who has the poorest results to show for his work. Neither is the poorest teaching always done by the men who receive the smallest remuneration, or we might add, by the men, who from the very fact that they are working in a small institution, feel that they have their reputations as teachers at stake and must do good work.

As we said in our last report, we place our work before the Church for what it is worth. We know that what we are doing is worth doing, and we know it is being done well. But if this fact cannot be recognized by the Church, we ask nothing of it. We are willing to stand on our merits. But if the Church can see and does see that we are deserving of its support, ought not each minister to be ready and willing to say a word in our behalf, to send us students, as some good friends are doing, to interest men of means in our work, and to hold up our hands rather than to endeavor to pull down and bring to naught our labors?

By the united efforts of our ministers and elders the number of our students could easily be increased, and the influence of the college made to spread and its usefulness to broaden. And then the burden upon the shoulders of the faculty would be lightened, and the sacrifice would not be demanded of five men alone.

We ask your help and your prayers.

A. E. Spencer,
Secretary of Board of Trustees.

REPORT OF THORNWELL ORPHANAGE.

The Board of Visitors of the Thornwell Orphanage take great pleasure in presenting their annual report to the Synod of South Carolina for consideration and approval.

We report: 1. That the organization of the Board, under the charter was duly effected at the last meeting by the election, in addition to the representatives of the Synods, twelve gentlemen residing in the town of Clinton, to act as an executive committee, and of one representative from each of the ten remaining Synods to act as corresponding members.

2. We find the institution to be in good condition, free from debt, and the teachers and pupils enjoying good health. There has been one death among the children during the year. The total enrollment of pupils was two hundred and twenty-four, of whom one hundred and twelve were from South Carolina, forty-six from Georgia, and thirteen from Florida, forty-four from other states and territories. There are over one hundred orphans waiting admission, kept back for lack of room.

3. From the institution, during the year, nine pupils were graduated and twenty-one discharged at their own request or returned to relatives. The progress of the children in their studies has been wholly satisfactory.

4. Improvements were effected in the plant of the institution. The "Mary Jacobs School" was completed, for the intermediate grades, at a cost of $2,400; the kitchen was refurnished at a cost of $600, the most approved modern facilities being used. Additions were made to the Technical school at a cost of several hundred dollars. Our Library received the addition of 400 volumes; the Museum received between two and three hundred valuable specimens,

5. The donations to the support of the institution reached above $16,000, and including sales of articles and the income from endowment, $18,696.79 was received and expended. We now have one hundred and thirty-eight Sunday Schools, Ladies Aid Societies and individuals on the roll of those who give $60.00 a year for the individual and personal care of some particular child.

6. The endowment fund has received very considerable increase during the year amounting to above $30,000, a sum larger than the total amount previously owned by the institution. The endowment now reaches $59,000, of which about $2,300 is in lands owned for investing. Of the sum donated to us this year, a generous friend in New York City was the donor of $25,000, the Miss Nellie Speed Estate (Hartford, Conn.) paid $2,050, Judge William Engles, of Radford, Va., founded a $1,000 scholarship, $450 was received from the Mary Bowman Legacy (Harrisonburg, Va.). A friend in Connecticut gave $500, the Christiansburg Sunday School added $608 to their scholarship fund, and there were smaller gifts of $100 each. It is hoped that the endowment fund my eventually reach a sum sufficient to meet the salaries of all teachers and officers, but the amount needed for individual support of the children will always rest upon the church of God.

The three controlling Synods may well congratulate themselves on the fact that so many helpers have been raised up, outside of our immediate bounds.

It is quite noticable in our monthly report of receipts that the churches, as churches, seldom contribute to the care of the institution. Sabbath School gifts are frequent, Thanksgiving collections come to us from about one-twentieth of the churches in our bounds; of every thirty donations the average is, from individuals 18, from societies 4, from the Sunday Schools 7, and occasionally a gift from the church in its organized capacity.

We are glad to report the institution free from debt. It needs enlargement as the number of applicants will show.

We hunbly thank God for all His goodness to our large household, for the steady provision made for their support, for the innumerable gifts of loving kindness that have been shown them, and that so many of God's people pray for them.

Respectfully submitted,

W. P. Jacobs, President.

The death of Mr. Anthony White, of Sumter, requires the appointment of a new member of the Board.

REV. W. R. ATKINSON, D. D.

William Robert Atkinson was born in Georgetown, South Carolina, on April 25, 1841. His father, William Robert Atkinson, was a lawyer by profession; and in religious belief an Episcopalian. His mother was, before her marriage, Miss Ann Jones, of Columbia, South Carolina. She was a devoted member of the Methodist church. The early years of young Atkinson were spent in Columbia, where his father practiced law. After attending such preparatory schools as were accessible, he entered the South Carolina College, and graduated in the Spring of 1861. At the call of his country he enlisted in the Confederate army, and served with gallantry in Virginia and North Carolina. After the war he determined to study for orders in the Episcopal church and for this purpose he entered an institution in Spartanburg, South Carolina. His studies led him to the conclusion that the Presbyterian form of government was more nearly conformed to the Scriptures than any other, and with that honesty of heart that always characterized him, he immediately connected himself with the Presbyterian church and repaired to the Columbia Theological Seminary as a candidate for the ministry. He graduated from this venerable school of the prophets in the Spring of 1869, and was probably licensed the same year. In March, 1871, he was ordained to the Gospel ministry by the Presbytery of Roanoke, and installed pastor of the village church at Smithville, Virginia. His work here was exceedingly difficult, but the Lord blessed his labors, the church began to grow, spirituality was deepened, a great revival followed, and, in the four years of his ministry, 68 persons were added to the church. A friend. writing of his work, says: "The good loved him, and all honored him in their hearts."

In 1875, he was called to the chair of Natural Sciences and Mathematics in Peace Institute, Raleigh, North Carolina. Here he remained for three years in the quiet, conscientious discharge of his duties.

In 1878, he removed to Charlotte, North Carolina, and became principal of the Institute for Young Ladies in that city. Here he probably did the best work of his life He had no ordinary difficulties to contend with in taking charge of an institution that had been for several years steadily going down. He began by raising the library standard and making the religious influence of tne school more positive. The result was that in a short while every room in the building was filled. In addition to his college work, he began in 1884 the publication of the South Atlantic Presbyterian. a weekly paper. This did not prove financially successful, and after about six months he abandoned it.

In 1890, after twelve years of labor at Charlotte, he removed to Columbia and became President of the College for Women, an institution just beginning its career. A revolution in female education, produced by the introduction of a woman's college into the system of public education provided by the State, prevented this work from becoming the immediate success that it otherwise would have been. He did, however, not only keep the enterprise from proving a failure, but made it a model institution in most respects. Here he labored for six years, when declining health made it necessary for him to give it up. The next five years was spent in a battle for life, but the appointed time had come, and at Williamsport, Pa., on March 5th, 1901, he received the summons to rest from his earthly labors. His body was brought to Columbia and buried in Elmwood cemetery.

Dr. Atkinson was married twice. His first wife was Miss Lucy Morton Hannah, of Charlotte county, Virginia. She died on December 20, 1890. Their living children are Christopher, of Columbia, S. C., Rev. Geo. H., of Charlotte, N. C., Mrs. Richard Burmeister, of New York, and Miss Alice, now at school in Columbia.

His second wife was Miss Christina L. Thompson, of Williamsport, Pa., who survives him.

Dr. Atkinson was a man of strong personality, and of an ardent enthusiastic nature. His mind worked rapidly, and his emotions were easily stirred. He had high ideals, and unusual executive ability. He was generous and public spirited, and always ready to promote any cause that looked to the upbuilding of his church or his country. In him the cause of Christian education has lost a faithful worker, and the church has lost a sincere laborer.

MEMORIAL OF REV. L. E. BOSTON.

Louis Edgar Boston was born and reared near Statesville, N. C. His parents, Jacob and Salome Boston, were members of the Presbyterian church. Louis was born Oct. 5th, 1866, and his mother died while he was still a child. He was tenderly and carefully brought up by a kind and good stepmother, Mrs. Lou Hill Boston. Both father and stepmother preceded him to the grave. Louis joined the Presbyterian church at Statesville when but a youth, and early gave expression to a desire to become a Minister, and lived with that purpose in view.

He was prepared for college at the Statesville Academy, and entered Davidson in 1888 and graduated in 1892.

He was received as a candidate for the ministry by Concord Presbytery, April 12, 1889.

After graduating he went to McCormick Seminary, but on account of his bad health he did not complete the year, and went to California hoping to find relief, but he was not benefitted, and soon returned to North Carolina. After a time he resumed his studies at Union Seminary, Va., spending parts of two years there, but his studies were sadly interrupted by his bad health. During the time of his course at the Seminaries he underwent several severe surgical operations and there is no telling his great suffering, but he bravely and hopefully bore it all.

He was licensed by Concord Presbytery May 19, 1897, during his course at the Seminary.

He labored in the Home Missionary field in the mountains of Concord Presbytery, and for a time supplied some churches in Asheville Presbytery. His last work in Concord Presbytery was to supply the Salisbury church during the vacation of the pastor in the summer of 1900. There he so favorably impressed himself upon the people that he was spoken of as assistant for Dr. Rumple by some of the church.

Sept. 10th, 1900. Brother Boston was dismissed as a Licentiate to unite with Enoree Presbytery, by which he was ordained at Laurens, S. C., Oct. 5, 1900, and accepted the pastoral care of Rocky Springs, Bethany and Clinton Second Churches.

After serving the churches to which he had been called there for a short time, winning their devoted love and abiding affection, he was compelled by failing health to rest; and going back to his old home, where, tenderly nursed by a loving sister, he continued to grow weaker under the suffering and wasting work of disease, until the end came Sunday, Nov. 17th, 1901, about 5 o'clock p. m. His body was laid to rest in Shiloh Church burying ground near that of his father and mother.

In the "Annual" of his class-mates for 1902, recently printed, tender, loving and touching tributes are expressed to his memory by nearly all of his class, in such language as this from Rev. LeRoy G. Henderson: "Louis Edgar Boston, true friend, loyal comrade, devoted brother in Christ—a man without guile."

W. P. Jacobs, Chairman.

REV. DAVID A. TODD.

The Rev. David Alphonzo Todd was born in Laurens, S. C., Dec. 3, 1837, and died in the place of his nativity, Feb'y 26, 1902.

His illness was brief. Rising at his usual hour in the morning, he found that he was unable to dress himself, and lay back upon the bed, where he was found by the family when he failed to appear at the breakfast table. A stroke of paralysis, coming probably just as he rose, had disabled his left side. It seemed not to be severe at first, and it was thought he would recover from it, if a second stroke did not come. At four o'clock that afternoon, he heard the church bell, and asked if it was ringing for prayer meeting. Upon being told that it was, he said, "I wish I were able to go;" and these were his last words on earth. Very soon, he seemed to fall asleep; but at five o'clock, it was discovered that he was unconscious, and in two hours he was dead.

Brother Todd was the son of Mr. Samuel R. Todd, who was, for many years, an elder in the Presbyterian church of Laurens, and whose memory is highly revered by the community. His mother was Miss Janie Boyd, and he was their eldest child. The father was born in the north of Ireland, and came to America when six years of age. From what is said of him in the community in which almost his entire life was spent, it is evident that he was a man of rare piety, sound judgment, and splendid zeal in the cause of religion.

The records of the Laurens Presbyterian church show that on 17th day of September, 1856, David A. Todd and John R. Riley were admitted to the communion. Both became ministers of the gospel. Two years later, in 1858, the subject of this sketch took the degree of A. B. at the South Carolina College, and in 1862, he graduated at the Theological Seminary in Columbia. In the same year he was licensed by the Presbytery of South Carolina. Ordination followed in 1867, by Bethel Presbytery, and he was made pastor of Cane Creek church in Union county, S. C., which relation continued for three years. During that pastorate, he preached also, for a time, for the Unionville and Mt. Tabor churches in the same county.

Then for some years, he lived in Mississippi, becoming a member of Chickasaw Presbytery, and serving the Corinth, Tupelo and other churches in that State. During his residence there, he married Miss Maria Humphries, of Guntown, Miss., who lived but a short time after the marriage.

Returning to his native town in 1880, he continued to reside there until death came. During these last 22 years of his life, he served the Rocky Springs, Bethany, Little River, Lisbon and Shady Grove churches, all in Laurens county.

When a cotton mill was built in the town of Laurens about seven years ago, he manifested great interest in the matter of providing religious services for the operatives. As soon as possible he began to preach to them, and continued to do so, once or twice a month, until the Sabbath before his death. His last sermon was from the text: "Speak, Lord, for thy servant heareth." All his services there were rendered gratuitously, no pecuniary compensation having been received by him at any time. By his will, he left one thousand dollars,to be used in erecting a church building accessible to the mill population.

Bro. Todd was a diligent student of the Scriptures, ever striving to come to a better knowledge of them. He had a large and valuable library, to which he was constantly adding new books that would aid him in his studies. Most of his time was spent in reading and writing. He devotedly loved the truth, and had little patience with those who taught hurtful error. His sermons were thoroughly prepared, and were always full of the Gospel. It was his delight to serve that Lord and Master, who has now taken him to be with Himself.

W. L. BOYD, } Committee.

REV. JAMES B. DUNWODY.

Rev. James Bulloch Dunwody, after he had served his own generation by the will of God fell on sleep, June 26, 1902, at his home in Walterboro, S. C., having almost reached the eighty-sixth mile-stone of his earthly pilgrimage.

He was born in Washington, Georgia, Sept. 24th, 1816, at the home of his grandfather Dr. James Dunwody, who had settled in Liberty county before the Revolutionary War. In infancy he was dedicated to the Gospel of the Ministry by his godly mother, and when ten years old, he united with the Church at the old Liberty County Meeting House.

At sixteen he entered Yale College, the Alma Mater of his father, and graduated in the class of 1836-37. After his graduation he returned South. Then his father removed to upper Georgia and became one of the founders of the village of Roswell and of Roswell Manufacturing Company, one of the early factories of the State.

Mr. Dunwody began the study of law in Savannah and afterwards finished under the distinguished jurist and Christian Judge Lumpkin. During this time he had felt called to the Gospel Ministry, and his mother's prayers were now being answered.

When he was admitted to the Bar, Judge Lumkin said: "I now dismiss you from the study of the Law to that of the Gospel." And when asked what were his charges, the Judge replied: "I charge thee, therefore, before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, who shall judge the quick and the dead at his appearing and his kingdom; preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all long suffering and doctrine."

And this charge he kept untarnished through a long and checkered career. No time was lost in entering upon his preparation for what proved a long and useful ministry, as a preacher of righteousness and herald of glad tidings; for within three days he was on his way to the Seminary in Columbia, S. C., where he became the intimate classmate and friend of Dr. Benjamin M. Palmer and Rev. Samuel Hay. By his genial disposition, devotion to duty and unselfish service to those in need, he occupied a first place in the hearts of all who knew him, and these characteristics marked his whole life.

In the fall of 1841 he was ordained a Home Missionary and labored in Northern Georgia and Alabama.

In April 1842 he married Miss Laleah Wood Pratt, daughter of Rev. Horace Pratt, Professor in Tuscaloosa College. His wife inheriting property from her uncle Baron Wood, they went soon after their marriage to England about the settlement of the estate, and after their return Mr. Dunwody received and accepted a call to Stoney Creek Church, which was his first pastorate. He served this church from 1844 to to 1855. His next settled charge was in Washington, Ga. from 1859 to 1865. During the war he was Chaplain of the Second Georgia Regiment for about a year and subsequently when Sherman invaded his native state, he took up arms in its defense. After the war he taught for several years in Washington, Ga. and near Augusta.

In 1873 he was called to be the Evangelist of Charleston Presbytery, and in 1874 he became pastor of the churches of Walterboro, Stoney Creek and Wilton, the last named having been founded by his great, great grandfather, Archibald Stobo. He resigned the pastorate of Wilton and of Walterboro churches in 1886, though he served the latter for some time as Stated Supply. In 1896, by reason of declining health, he withdrew from the active work of Stoney Creek pastorate, and tendered his resignation to this church, but this people, whom he had so long and faithfully served, with one accord refused to accept it and death only dissolved his official relation to this beloved people. His second wife was Miss Ellen Galt Martin of McPhersonville, S. C., who was called in less than a year from the labors of earth to the rewards of Heaven. He was married in 1859 to Miss Caroline I. Hagood of Barnwell, S. C. by whose side he now awaits the glorious dawn of the resurrection.

Such are the cold historical steps of this noble man's life. They were all directed by a mind seeking the right, and followed by a heart that despised the wrong. He had a winning smile, a kind word, a cordial hand and a sympathetic heart for all. He knew no class, but was the faithful friend to every one—a delight to the hoary-headed, a charm to those in the vigor of life, and a joy to the young. All felt at ease and delighted in his genial presence: for he was a most gifted conversationalist, and had a remarkable command of history. He had been during his whole life a careful reader and a critical student of all the prominent histories, philosophies, sciences and arts, and could speak with the greatest ease and accuracy of them all, and make them glow with interest to old and young alike. But with all his intellectual attainments he was as humble and as simple-hearted as a little child. He was pure in thought, noble in desire, chaste in speech, courtly in manner, Christ-like in character and irreproachable in conduct, and thus he was a living benediction wherever he went and scattered sunshine at every step in his life. These things were the natural expressions of a genuine heart, and not mere shams of the surface. The words of his mouth echoed in the harmony of a consistent life.

Respectfully submitted, A. L. Patterson.

REV. D. E. JORDAN, D. D.

Donald Edward Jordan was born in Pearson County, N. C., Dec. 15th, 1831, and after he had served his own generation by the will of God, he fell on sleep at Winnsboro, S. C., on Sept. 5th, 1902. The next day devout men (pastors of the city and officers of his Church) carried him to his burial and made great lamentation over him, and after the services, conducted by Rev. J. H. Thornwell, of Fort Mill, S. C., and C. E. McDonald, of Winnsboro, S. C., he was planted away until the resurrection, within a few feet of the pulpit where for twenty years he had faithfully preached Christ and him crucified. Dr. Jordan was a good man, full of faith and the Holy Ghost, and his life was a benediction to any community. A talented lawyer the day of his funeral remarked to the writer, "Had Dr. Jordan never preached a sermon his pure life in our midst was an unanswerable argument for Christianity," and another fully competent to know and to testify says, "There is scarcely a promise in Scripture that I have not seen fulfilled in his life, and I do not ask a stronger proof of the truth of our religion than his life and death contain." The large concourse of citizens standing around his open grave sharing the grief of his stricken flock felt that "A prince and a great man in Israel had fallen." And

> "Today there is a congregation in tears,
> A pastor in glory,
> And he being dead yet speaketh."

Dr. Jordan was born of pious parentage. Like Eunice, his mother was a woman of unfeigned faith, and like Hannah, she consecrated her child to the service of God from birth. He often spoke of her godly influence and example in shaping his life, and not long before his death declared, "My earliest recollections cluster around the open Bible on my mother's knee, and her tender prayers still linger with me." Like Cecil, he noticed that when worried his mother would retire to her room and soon return with her face shining. He learned that a "little talk with Jesus makes it right, alright." Joining the church in early life he was enabled, by the grace of God, to witness a good confession, finish his course and receive a crown of righteousness."

At the early age of nineteen he graduated from Hampden-Sydney, Virginia, and after teaching for several years entered the Theological Seminary at Columbia, then in the zenith of its glory. After completing the course he was licensed by Orange Presbytery at Lexington, N. C., in Oct., 1857, and shortly after was ordained and installed pastor of Madison Church, North Carolina. For one fourth of a century he labored in North Carolina, serving the churches of Madison, Wentworth, Oxford, Henderson and Nutbush as pastor. In 1882 he took charge of the church at Winnsboro, and for another fifth of a century was a member of Bethel Presbytery. Thus for forty-five years he was permitted to be a "Co-laborer with God; and in all those years he shunned not to declare the whole counsel of God." He served during the war between the States as chaplain in Scales' North Carolina brigade, and was loved and honored by the soldiers both for loyalty to his country and faithfulness to their spiritual interest. In 1862 the Lord greatly blessed his preaching by the awakening and convicting of sinners, the Holy Ghost descended in power and numbers of his comrades enlisted under the banner of the cross, some of whom still linger to bless his memory, the greater part were waiting to welcome him on the other shore. For thirty years—1870–1902, six months interim, he was an honored trustee of Davidson College, and by prudent counsel did much to advance her interest. In 1881 he was elected first general evangelist of the Synod of North Carolina, but did not serve. In 1884 he was elected Moderator of Bethel Presbytery. In 1886 he was the Moderator of the Synod of South Carolina. In 1887 his Alma Mater conferred upon him the well earned title of D. D. In September, 1857, he was married to Miss Cornelia Elizabeth Gifford at Monticello, near Winnsboro.

Their honeymoon lasted until his death. She was always his "little sweetheart." She and four children of the six born to them survive to mourn their loss.

Dr. Jordan was an instructive preacher, accustomed to bring beaten oil into the sanctuary. His congregation never complained that he had nothing to set before them. A master of exegesis his brethren felt safe in accepting his teaching on difficult passages.

Always clear, at times he was tender and pathetic, the tradition of the revivals in his early ministry represent him with tearful pathos pleading with sinners to turn and live. A listener to one of his late sermons on the joys laid up for the Christian says: "His face glowed with interest, his eyes flashed with fire, he reminded me of Moses returning from his talk with God. I held my breath as I expected to see him step across the border land." His glory was in the cross of Christ and he loved to tell the old old story of Jesus and his love. When his health began to fail he expressed himself as submissive to God's will, yet said he, "I do earnestly long to preach Christ, and to die in the harness." His prayer was answered. He had returned to take charge of his field and had started the preparation of his sermon for the coming sabbath, taking as his text 1 Cor. 2-13. "Which thing we speak not in the word which man's wisdom teacheth; but which the Holy Ghost teacheth comparing spiritual things with spiritual things;" but when the Sabbath came his earthly tabernacle had been dissolved and he was in the house not made with hands.

Dr. Jordan will be sorely missed from our church courts, not only on account of his lovely character and genial disposition, but because of his knowledge of parliamentary rules and his keen sensitiveness to things being "done decently and in order." He was eminently conservative, yet not narrow, strict but not intolerant. Anything that gave a clearer view of the cross was pleasing to him, but novelties, oddities, buffoonery, anything that tended to formalism was abhorent to his sense of faithfulness to the crown rights of Jesus. It was painful for him to differ with his brethren, yet like Luther he had sworn manfully to defend the faith, and the approval of his conscience was far dearer to him than the applause of his fellow man. Gifted with a logical analytical mind, fine judgment, keen perception and accurate memory; familiar with the whole sweep of the theology, church history, and current events, graceful and easy in manner, fiery and fluent in speech, thorough master of himself and subject—few men could cope with him in debate, and it was a common saying in Bethel, "Let us hear from Dr. Jordan before taking the vote." Dr. Jordan desired "to be, rather than seem to be," hence he was honest, frank and fair in all his dealings. Conscious of his ability he was yet modest and unassumiug, thoroughly unselfish. "In honor preferring one another." All who came in contact with him loved him. He was an Israelite in whom there was no guile. And to his brethren his memory is like a precious ointment, while his children rise up an call him blessed.

His last illness was characterized by patience, meekness and submission. All that loving hands could do to keep him from slipping away was done; but the Savior had willed that he should be with Him and see His glory; as he came near to the valley of the shadow, his mind often rested under a cloud, yet at the name of Jesus his face would brighten and the mist roll away. In his lucid intervals he dwelt much on the goodness of God, and was heard to whisper, "There remaineth therefore a rest for the people of God." While seemingly unconscious the 46th Psalm was recited; but as the speaker reached the 7th verse he stopped her, saying: "It is enough, the Lord of hosts is with me; the God of Jacob is my refuge" His last words were, "Glory, Glory, Glory," and as he entered into the presence of the King a sweet smile rested upon his face. He was satisfied for he had awaked in His likeness.

"Oh death, where is thy sting;
Oh grave, where is thy victory?"
